

Wilson Wins Senate OK With Advice On How To Run His Job

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles E. Wilson won 77-6 confirmation by the Senate yesterday—along with some sharp advice on how to conduct himself in his new assignment as secretary of defense.

That action by the Senate gave President Eisenhower a full Cabinet but apparently left him some political problems.

Wilson was approved, after a 10-day controversy, by the votes of 47 of the Senate's 48 Republicans and 30 of 46 Democrats.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and five Democrats—Johnston of South Carolina, Kilgore and Neely of West Virginia, Lehman of New York and Willis Smith of North Carolina—voted against confirmation of the former General Motors president.

Others In Trouble

Wilson's agreement to sell more than 2½ million dollars worth of G. M. stock paved the way for his confirmation but it was causing trouble for two men he has proposed as Defense Department aides.

They are Robert T. B. Stevens, named informally as Army secretary, and Harold E. Talbott, named as air secretary.

This situation was thrown back onto Eisenhower's desk for a decision.

Stevens and Talbott have said they can't afford to sell some financial holdings. The prevailing Senate opinion seemed to be that they will sell or they won't be confirmed.

Not Yet Nominated

Eisenhower may move slowly in giving them formal nominations, which the Senate Armed Services Committee has ruled must be forthcoming before they can be summoned to testify again. They appeared with Wilson at closed hearings Jan. 15 and 16.

The understanding of armed services committee members was that the names of Wilson's proposed assistants will be sent to the Senate one at a time, with that of Roger M. Kyes, chosen deputy secretary, to be submitted first.

Second on the list may be Robert B. Anderson, designated as secretary of the Navy. He has testified he does not have any in-

New Farm Chief Benson Pledged To Slash Costs

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says he will have further "important announcements" this week on his plans for streamlining the Agriculture Department.

Introducing newsmen to aides he has appointed to help him run the department, the new Republican farm chief promised additional information soon on his plans for cutting costs in the department and for increasing its efficiency.

Bureaus Regrouped

This information is expected to go a long way toward answering questions raised when Benson, in his first official act, announced last Wednesday a regrouping of the department's 20 bureaus in four groups.

Benson has said that he will be guided by a desire to save money and to take the government out of agriculture to the fullest extent possible permitted by the interests of the nation and of the farming industry.

Many queries about Benson's plans have come from farm-minded congressmen, some of whom have been critical of the new secretary because of his refusal to go into detail at a recent Senate Agriculture Committee hearing, about what he intends to do.

The new secretary cannot go far in altering present programs and activities without Congress' consent. Many such programs are required by law. In this class are the controversial farm price support activities which this year may require the disbursement of 2½ billion dollars in government funds for loans and other operations.

Incomes Going Down

Likewise, virtually every activity carried on by the department has strong backing from strong commodity or regional groups of producers and distributors.

Some of Benson's appointments have in themselves suggested possible sharp shifts from present farm policies and programs. Strongly represented in those appointments are groups which were unfriendly to former Secretary Charles F. Brannan and to programs established by the Roosevelt-Truman administrations.

Those groups include the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation and the state-controlled land grant colleges and extension services.

Furthermore, Benson's plans to trim department activities comes at a time when farm prices and incomes are going down and when some congressional farm leaders contend that there is need for greater government aid for agriculture rather than less.

State Of Union Report To Map Foreign Policy

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders said today President Eisenhower intends to lay down the basic pattern of his foreign policy in his first State of the Union message next Monday.

Although the Republican Capitol Hill command was said to have been admonished by Eisenhower not to talk about their conferences with him yesterday lest the meetings end abruptly, some reports on his intentions leaked out.

They indicated the President would emphasize foreign affairs—especially co-ordination of U.S. efforts in various areas. There were few reports on what, if anything, the President planned to say on domestic matters.

Lawmakers said they expect him to delay until after additional conferences with Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge any specific recommendations for cutting former President Truman's $78,600,000,000 budget.

The President was said to have asked for continuance of the governmental reorganization power which expires soon.

Eisenhower was understood to have been urged by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), the majority leader, to end price-wage controls, as he could do by executive order.

Army Artillery To Tackle Fire

By ROY STEINFORT

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—Army artillerymen planned a high explosive barrage today on a multi-million-dollar gas well fire roaring out of control 10 miles off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

They hoped to divert the searing flames from three remaining wells only 10 feet from the center of the spectacular inferno.

Officials of Pure Oil Company, operators of the wells, said the Army men planned to shoot the control-valve structure from atop the two burning wells, allowing the flames to boil upward from where the pipe emerges from the water. At present the flames are shooting off to one side.

A company spokesman said if the blasting was successful, the vertical flames would cause air to circulate down into the lower part of the rigging and keep the lower parts cooler.

Four Army artillery instructors from Camp Polk, La., were picked for the attempt to hit the pin-point target from a "nother wooden platform 200 feet away.

Light Army planes flew in the four, a 75-mm. recoilless rifle and ammunition yesterday. A Coast Guard boat was to take the group to the well, 36 miles south of here, at 4 a.m.

The oil company asked the Army for help after a professional fire-fighter who specialized in extinguishing such blazes failed in several attempts yesterday.

The fire began when one well exploded Sunday.

Pastor Menaced At Americus, Ga.

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP)—Police are trying to find an anonymous telephone caller who threatened to beat a former Ohio clergyman who came to Americus last summer.

The Rev. Kempton Oakes, 31-year-old former athlete and pastor of the First Christian Church here, said the caller told him Sunday to get out of town after daring him to come down to the corner and fight. He told police the man said he could "beat hell out of damn-yankee."

The minister also complained that someone dumped garbage into his new automobile shortly after the telephone call. Police Chief R. M. Cansler assigned officers to investigate.

Last week City Recorder Billy Smith dismissed charges against two of the clergyman's neighbors following complaints by Oakes that they allowed their dogs and chickens to run loose in his newly planted garden.

The minister, who served his church for nine years at Mansfield, O., and surrounding communities, said last night he does not intend to leave Americus. He said his anonymous caller may have been drunk.

Dulles On Radio

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles tonight makes his first public statement on America's foreign policy since he became secretary of state six days ago.

The 30-minute address, recorded yesterday, will be carried on radio and television (CBS) at 10:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

SUPT. AL CHRISTENSEN of the Escanaba Water Dept. is pictured here throwing the switch that put the city's new $850,000 water filtration plant into operation yesterday. Christensen reported this morning that minor adjustments are being made, particularly in the amount of chlorine being injected into the water supply. The first day's water output was too heavily chlorinated, he reported, a condition resulting from a minor but faulty adjustment in the input meter. (Daily Press Photo)

Taft-Hartley Act Changes May Get Labor's Approval

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—An influential senator said today a series of changes proposed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in the Taft-Hartley labor law have a good chance of being accepted by unions and industry.

Taft told newsmen some of his suggestions may win support of both labor and management.

And Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) of the Senate Labor Committee told a reporter that all of Taft's proposed amendments to the T-H law seemed to fall into an area in which both unions and industry can agree.

Taft, GOP majority leader and principal author of the labor law bearing his name, dropped five bills into the Senate hopper yesterday proposing about 16 different changes in the present law. Most of the proposals Taft had introduced before in Congress, without getting them enacted.

Some of his main suggestions: (1) increase the members on the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which administers the labor law, from five to seven; (2) completely separate the functions of the NLRB's general counsel from the NLRB itself, and (3) make employers as well as union leaders file non-Communist affidavits before they can avail themselves of the NLRB.

President Creates Board For Study Of Cold War Strategy

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A strategy board for the cold war was created by President Eisenhower yesterday to study techniques in "the struggle for the minds and wills of men."

The President named eight men for the project and instructed them to report to him by June 30.

A White House announcement said: "The committee will survey and evaluate the government's information and related policies and activities with particular reference to international relations and the national security."

It is a "psychological strategy board," James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told reporters.

Government Boosts Expansion In Steel With Tax Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government, through tax benefits, has helped in the construction of $4,661,000,000 worth of steel-making facilities, the Defense Production Administration calculates.

But DPA in a report yesterday questioned whether in case of wartime need there would be enough of the right kinds of steel finishing mills to provide the quantities of specialized products needed.

Nearly 73 per cent of the government-assisted expansion has been in capacity to produce steel ingots. The remainder was for mills to finish the ingots into usable products.

Basic ingot capacity by the end of this year will be 25 per cent above the pre-Korea level, 38 per cent above the World War II peak, DPA said.

Rush Of Revenue Bills Breaking Loose In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—A bill to clip corporations for two state franchise tax payments in one fiscal year was ready for passage in the Senate today, the first of what may be many revenue measures in the 1953 legislative session.

The bill is the proposal of Senator George N. Higgins (R-Fern-dale), to move the tax due date from August to May 15.

Two Request Delay

Since corporations already have paid $35,000,000 by this tax into the State Treasury in the current fiscal year, the measure amounts to a double tax in this fiscal year.

But Higgins said it will not be a double tax for those corporations operating on a calendar year basis. And, he said, that covers most of them.

The only opposition to the measure as it advanced through debate last night was from two Detroit Democrats, Senators Harold M. Ryan and Charles S. Blondy. Both asked for delay.

Ryan argued that Higgins' own legislative tax study committee was due to report its recommendations next week and that the Legislature should wait to see what it proposes.

Wipes Out Deficit

Higgins declared he went to various corporations and told them the state's fiscal plight. He said they offered this solution. He said his bill would wipe out the

Earl Ward, Prison Rioter, Moved To Marquette Today

PONTIAC (AP)—Earl Ward, unpredictable "brains" of the Southern Michigan Prison riot, left for Marquette prison today with a heavy guard, in chains, and with a quiet "So long."

Four State Police and two Marquette guards whisked Ward out of the Oakland County Jail at 8 a. m. for the 425 mile trip to the rugged Northern Michigan prison.

Ward was handcuffed and shackled but not unruly. His only words were a terse "So Long."

That was in sharp contrast to his behavior last Thursday when a jury sentenced him to 20 to 30 years for leading the million dollar riot at Jackson April 20-24. Shortly before the verdict came, Ward banged Jackson County Sheriff G. H. Austin over the head with his handcuffs and in turn got slugged with a black-jack.

The voluble prisoner has spent most of his time at the Oakland jail since the April rioting. He was removed from the prison for security purposes. During his stay here he was generally an orderly convict.

The prison rioting actually will cost Ward only about four more years in prison. His recent sentence is to run concurrently with a 25-30 year term he is serving for armed robbery.

New Vaccine Found To Throw Off Polio By March Of Dimes

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Scientists now have a vaccine which they have good reason to believe will protect humans against polio, ending the dread scourge of a crippling and killing virus.

The proof of the pudding will come through tests on many children, probably to be run this year. This is the main substance of a report last night by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Payout For Research

This vaccine is one payoff of 18 million dollars devoted to research by the March of Dimes funds since 1938. It looks like the best practical answer yet to the challenge of polio.

It has stimulated a few humans, and many monkeys and chimpanzees, to make their own antibodies of disease-fighters against all three types of polio virus. The monkeys, in fact, went scot-free even when given lethal doses of polio virus after the vaccination.

The acid test for this vaccine still lies ahead—the tests on thousands of children. Even if it works, the vaccine will not be generally available this year, not until some questions are answered about how good and how long its protective effect lasts.

Treatment Is Safe

But it is certain that this vaccine is safe, that it can't cause polio in children or adults who get the shots. For it is made out of viruses killed by chemical treatment, with formalin or formaldehyde, so that the viruses cannot damage human nerves.

And it is certain that the vaccine could protect against all three types of viruses that can cause human polio. It took three solid years of work, costing $1,370,000, to learn that there are only three such viruses — named the Brunhilde, Lansing and Leon strains—which are dangerous. This vaccine contains all three types.

Medical research also has learned how to make these viruses

Oil Pipeline Across Peninsula Requires Legislative Action

LANSING (AP)—A projected Canadian oil pipeline crossing both Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas must have the approval of the Legislature, Attorney General Frank G. Millard said today. Millard held that the Legislature is the only state agency which can give permission to cross the Straits of Mackinac.

The pipeline is proposed by the Interprovincial Pipeline Company of Canada to bring Alberta oil to Sarnia, Ont. The pipeline, which now extends as far as Superior, Wis., would cross the Upper Peninsula, cross the Straits, circle Bay City and cross the Thumb to Port Huron.

Millard said petitions for a common carrier permit are about ready to be presented to the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The only hitch, he said, is whether it will be filled by Interprovincial or the Lake Pipeline Company which operates the line from the Canadian-North Dakota border to Superior.

Soviets Have Big Margin On Jets

PARIS (AP)—New information has boosted Allied estimates of Russia's jet plane strength to 8,000 aircraft—3,000 more than American military intelligence agents figured only a few weeks ago.

This was revealed last night by a top-ranking U. S. Army officer, who said the new information was picked up recently by American agents. These reports said the Russians had stepped up their jet production considerably.

The size of the Atlantic Allies' combined jet fleets is a military secret but it is believed to be a great deal less than the Soviet Union's. To counter the Russians and their satellites, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization hopes to build eventually an air force of 4,000 planes.

The informant said the Russians are believed to have a total of about 20,000 "high quality" warplanes of all types and an air force of half a million men.

The Soviets, he added, also have stepped up their airbase building program all along their western frontier and in the European satellites—Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania.

"They have built 70 to 90 bases along that frontier, and they are stocking them with jet fighters," he declared, terming this a "very big threat against Central Europe."

The Western Allies have built or are building a string of 95 airfields across Europe, including 30 already set up in West Germany.

Commanders Visit Korea Battle Line; Planes Pound Reds

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

SEOUL (AP)—Allied warplanes today hammered Communist supply routes and front-line positions on the frozen Western Korean Front.

Outnumbered U. S. Sabre jets damaged two Communist MIG15 fighters over Mig Alley in North-west Korea.

Only light ground action was reported as Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff, began his seventh tour of the battle-front since the war began 2½ years ago.

Convicted Of Murder, Wife Remains Mute During Detroit Trial

DETROIT (AP) — Declining to say a word, even to give her name, Mrs. Rosetta Fortune, 32, stood convicted of first degree murder today in the fatal stabbing last Oct. 28th of her common-law husband, Frank Newton, 38.

Mrs. Fortune was called to the witness stand in the three-day trial, but she remained mute throughout.

Assistant Prosecutor Theodore Kotelly claimed she refused to talk to sham insanity.

Recorder's Judge Frank Schemanske referred Mrs. Fortune to the court's psychiatric clinic for examination and delayed sentencing, after a jury found her guilty.

City's New $850,000 Water Plant Opens; Supply Is From Bay

Escanaba's new $850,000 water filtration plant, most modern in operation and design in Northern Michigan, today is supplying all of the city's needs with water from Little Bay de Noc.

Construction of the plant follows a long history of municipal effort toward a safe and economical source of water supply.

The new pumping and filtration plant, located at Sand Point, replaces the present "old" water plant, built in 1908, and four deep wells which were drilled and put in operation in 1942. In the latter year the city also constructed an elevated water storage pressure tank.

Has Ample Capacity

The "old" water plant located near the yacht basin will be razed next year. The city proposes to continue the deep wells as stand-by but they will be pumped only occasionally as a maintenance operation.

With a capacity of 4,500,000 gallons per day in the new plant, the city's water supply problem has been solved for many years to come, said City Manager A. V. Aronson.

The peak demand for water in Escanaba reaches about 3,000,000 gallons a day occasionally in the summer months. Now at its lowest, the water demand in Escanaba is about 1,700,000 gallons a day.

Water Is Softer

The new plant is so designed that one additional filter bed can be added, which would bring the capacity of the plant to 6,000,000 gallons per day.

All of the water is being pumped from Little Bay de Noc and Escanaba housewives are expected to note that the all-bay water supply is softer than the water they have received in the past. For a time all of the water was supplied by deep wells, but this supply was inadequate and prior to the change-over to the new plant the supply was about half well water and half water pumped from the bay through the "old" plant.

Al Christensen, water department superintendent, said bay water is about 135 parts per million hard, compared to 185 to 200 parts per million hardness of water from the deep wells.

The change-over to the new plant was made yesterday.

Tests Completed

Before the change-over a series of tests were made by the city and the Pearson Construction Company of Benton Harbor, the project contractors.

Trial runs were made last week, with the water pumped into the plant and out into the bay again. This was done to test the water pumping equipment.

The filtration and purification process in the new plant assures the safety of the water supply from Little Bay de Noc.

Consoer and Townsend, Chicago architectural firm, designed the building. The design harmonizes with the architecture of the city's new beach house in Ludington Park and was approved by the Planning Commission and the City Council.

The project was financed by a $900,000 bond issue approved by the people of Escanaba in a special referendum in 1950. Besides the water plant, the revenue bond issue also will finance construction of a water main extension to serve the expanding needs of industries in the North Escanaba area.

Wolverines Change Name

The Wolverine Conservation Association, one of the oldest sportsmen's clubs in the area, adopted Delta County Sportsmen's Club as its new name at a meeting in the Escanaba Yacht Club Monday evening.

The change in name came after considerable discussion and is believed more descriptive of present aims of the group.

New constitution and by-laws will be drawn up for approval of the membership. Named to the committee to draw up the rules were J. L. Rouman, E. J. Eden, J. H. Fawcett and V. H. Powers.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Monday evening, Feb. 8, at the Escanaba Yacht Club. All sportsmen of the county are being invited to attend that meeting.

Rotarians Present Vocational Talks

Vocational service talks were presented by four recent members of the Escanaba Rotary Club at yesterday's meeting of the Club at the Delta Hotel. The speakers were introduced by Carl Benzing, vocational service committee chairman.

The speakers were Claude Tobin Jr., Andrew Skaug, Paul Snyder and Ed Marenger.

They described their business or profession and their work in the community.

Leslie Olson, chairman of the Delta County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and a member of the Rotary Club's crippled children's committee, reported on the cost of treating Delta county's polio cases.

Bills recently received by the Chapter for payment ranged from a low of $32.50 to three in excess of $1,000. The Chapter has already spent $8,000 as the result of the 1952 polio epidemic in Delta county. The recent bills may equal that amount.

Nevin Reynolds, Rotary Club president, reported that contributions to the Club's crippled children's camp fund have been received in memory of G. W. Traverser, James Bulkley and William Harvey.

U. P. Newspapers Honor L. D. Tucker At Iron Mountain

L. D. Tucker, editor of The Iron Mountain News, was presented with a plaque commemorating his leadership in community affairs during the trying period of 1952 for the Iron Mountain-Kingsford communities by the Upper Peninsula Newspaper Executives Association at Iron Mountain last night.

The formal presentation was made by Jack Rice, publisher of the Houghton Mining Gazette, upon behalf of the association.

The presentation of the honors to Tucker was a surprise feature of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at which Oscar F. Litterer, business economist for the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, was a guest speaker.

Most of the Upper Peninsula daily newspapers were represented at the meeting to honor their colleague in the newspaper profession.

Three Consultants On Second Career Program At Library

Three Escanabans will serve as consultants when the second in a series of meetings is held or retirement Wednesday night in Carnegie library.

Dr. Louis Gross, president of the Delta-Schoolcraft Medical Society, Miss Phoebe Anderson, nursing supervisor for the Delta-Memorial Health Department, and Fr. O'Neill D'Amour, secretary of the Catholic Diocesan board of education, will lead discussions on physical, mental and spiritual aspects of a second career.

Also on the program will be Daniel Stein, men's clothier, and Harry Gruber, secretary of the Photography Club.

Forty-two persons attended the first meeting. Sponsors of the program, given in cooperation with the Escanaba Adult Education program, stress that the meetings are especially helpful for men.

Problems of aging and chronic illness, the responsibility of the individual for his good health, physical needs, climate and appearance will be among topics considered.

The program Wednesday night, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., will point up the need for good health in attaining a satisfactory second career, will stress that aging persons have good memories and should not neglect learning, point out the need for emotional tolerance and stability, and the importance of spiritual welfare.

Lowell F. Sundstrom has been appointed advertising manager of The Escanaba Daily Press, succeeding Guy W. Traverse, deceased, and Donald J. Moreau has been appointed assistant advertising manager, it was announced today by James G. Ward Jr., general manager.

Other members of the advertising department include Edward McCarthy, classified advertising manager.

Sundstrom joined the Escanaba Press staff in 1943 as manager of the branch office at Manistique. Previously he worked for five years with the Soo Evening News, Sault Ste. Marie.

After serving two years in the U. S. Navy in World War II, Sundstrom returned to The Press staff as a member of the advertising staff in the Escanaba office. Later he was appointed assistant advertising manager.

Moreau joined The Press advertising department in Feb., 1947 after serving a year and a half in the U. S. Army in World War II.

Sundstrom, Moreau and McCarthy all attended Michigan State College.

Mountain Climber To Give Assembly At Junior High

C. Findley Bowser, famed American mountain climber, will describe and demonstrate his adventurous sport in a school assembly program sponsored by the University of Wisconsin extension division at Escanaba Junior High School, at 10 a. m., Jan. 29.

Bowser will present both the entertainment and educational aspects of mountain climbing and show how the various items of equipment are used in the sport.

Another assembly scheduled for Escanaba Junior High School students will be given Feb. 9 by Robert T. Edgar. He will describe astronomical phenomena, using a model space ship as a stage setting.

A full-size window screen contains about one mile of wire.

Death Claims John Jardin Sr.

John B. Jardin, Sr., 79, widely known resident of the St. Nicholas community, died at 8:45 a. m. today at St. Francis Hospital. He was admitted to the hospital Sunday, suffering from a severe cold. He was born May 11, 1873, in Walhain, St. Paul, Brabant, Belgium, and came to the United States in 1888 to settle in Bark River. He married the former Catherine Jodocy of Schaffer, May 28, 1900, the ceremony performed by her brother, the late Msgr. Matthias J. Jodocy of Marquette, who then was a parish priest at Schaffer.

In 1918 they moved to Gladstone where Mr. Jardin, a machinist by trade, was employed 17 years by the Soo Line. He moved to St. Nicholas to engage in farming, 17 years ago and had retired from active labor 7 years ago.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church, Perkins, the Holy Name Society and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Surviving are his wife, one son, John Jr., of St. Nicholas, two daughters, Mrs. Jule (Agnes)

Leo Miljour Child Dies Of Meningitis

Oliver Leo Miljour, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miljour of Perkins, died at 5:40 a. m. today in St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette. He had been ill with meningitis two weeks.

The child was born Dec. 30, 1951. He leaves his parents; a sister, Myra Kay; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Pillotte of Escanaba and his maternal grandfather, Charles Porath of Powers.

Friends may call at Alho funeral home here beginning at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m., Thursday in St. Joseph Church in Perkins with the Rev. Fr. Charles Daniel officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Gaudette, St. Nicholas, and Mrs. Isadore (Mary) Truckey, Escanaba, and five grandchildren. One sister survives, Mrs. Jule De Grave, Iron Mountain.

The body was taken to the Skradski Funeral Home in Gladstone. Arrangements for the services are incomplete.

Guardsmen May Volunteer For Army And Keep Grade

National Guardsmen who are about to be drafted may now volunteer for active duty for 24 months and keep their Guard grades and seniority while in service. Capt. Roy Johnson, of Escanaba, commander of Delta county's Company C, announced this morning.

The new Army policy was announced and cleared through Selective Service last week and is in immediate effect.

Previously, Guardsmen had to give up their Guard rating and seniority upon enlisting for Army service although their training benefited them considerably in qualifying for Army rating, Captain Johnson explained.

Ready For Duty

"Until now, when a Guardsman had been called up for induction by his local board it has been necessary to discharge him from the National Guard," he said. "These men received no credit for their Guard service and were subjected to the same course of basic training as men without previous military experience. This was unfair to the man and did not constitute the best use of manpower by the Army."

"The new policy will benefit the Army as well as the Guard. Men who have completed basic training in the Guard will be immediately available for advanced or technical training. Many Guardsmen are fully qualified in their military specialties and able to assume positions of responsibility and leadership without additional training."

Boost To Recruiting

From a time standpoint, the Army can figure on getting roughly 20 weeks additional service out of Guardsmen who volunteer under the new program. Basic training takes 16 weeks, plus a week's leave upon conclusion. Add about three weeks in travel time, processing for reassignment and the total is 20 weeks, all of which time the Army can use a qualified Guardsman in his regular duty assignment or in advanced training.

The volunteer program is also expected to boost National Guard recruiting, which has lagged in recent months and aroused complaints from state officials that they weren't getting a fair break from the regular services on available manpower.

Although men who join the Guard prior to reaching 18½ years of age are deferred from the draft, there has been little incentive for men above that age to enlist in the Guard.

Definite Advantage

A man could see little advantage in enlistment in the Guard when he knew that he would later be inducted into active service in the lowest military grade," said Capt. Johnson.

"The prospect of entering active duty with his National Guard grade provides an incentive not only to enlist in the Guard but also to work hard to attain the highest possible rank before entering active service."

Guardsmen are eligible to attend Army service schools. This gives them this additional opportunity to train in a military specialty of their own choosing before entering active duty.

Annual Ice Show Shaping Up Fast

Program numbers for the 14th annual Escanaba Ice Varieties are shaping up fast and promise to be again in the tradition of bigger and better shows every year.

Seven production numbers, five solos, and several duets, trios and four some are programmed for this annual community ice show, to be given Feb. 18-22 in the Fairgrounds exhibition building.

Costumes have been ordered and many now are being made in the Escanaba Recreation Center. Scenery, including moving windmills for a production number, is under construction.

The 150 skaters in the show are rehearsing five or more times per week, and to date have lost only a few scheduled rehearsals because of poor ice.

The show this year will include a Christmas number by the very young, a Dutch number, an Oriental fantasy, a precision rhythm number entitled "Top Hat," a Winged Rhapsody, and a Belle of the Ball number.

Intrepid Fliers Did Grand Job In Rescuing Six Men From Ice

THE intrepid Escanaba fliers, Jon Thorin and Wilbert DeGrave, who rescued six men from an ice floe Saturday afternoon accomplished a feat of daring and airmanship of rare occurrence. Because of it six men are alive today who may otherwise have been lost.

The two pilots landed their light planes on the thin ice a total of five times to rescue the stranded men and take them to safety. If the ice had broken on any of those landings or in the takeoffs, a story of disaster may have been written, a disaster that may have taken the lives of the rescuers as well as the lives of the stranded fishermen.

The ice floe on which the men were stranded was moving at a speed estimated at 10 miles an hour. And it was a flimsy strip of ice, only two to three inches in thickness. Obviously it has a hazardous undertaking each time the plane settled on the ice. But the fliers made the five landings without incident and brought the six fishermen to shore.

Travelling on the bay ice is a hazardous undertaking any time during the winter, even when the ice reaches thickness of 12 inches or more. Vagaries of currents fre-

War Inspires Humane Purpose

ONE warm evening last May, a soldier drove restlessly around his home neighborhood in Queens, New York, gazing fondly at trees and other sights long familiar to him. He was leaving for a new assignment in Korea, and he knew it would be a long time before he saw these things again.

He knew, too, that it would mean separation from his sweetheart just at the time their marriage plans were taking shape.

Yet matters could have been worse. His enlistment would be ended in March, 1953, and the Army would have to ship him home in January to get him out of service by that date. When he reached Korea near the close of June, 1952, seven months in that bedraggled land did not seem too much to endure.

But January is well on its way now, and the soldier, Sgt. Werner Krenzer, is still in Korea. What's more, his sweetheart has entered a convent, the marriage is off and the 26-year-old New York lad isn't coming home.

The reason is very simple. Krenzer has found a job he likes. It would be better to say a job to which he is dedicated. He helps bring back warmth and kindness and hope to the wandering orphan waifs of Korea.

Doing this job in Seoul, the capital, he works with a team under the UN Civil Assistance Command. Kim, his 12-year-old interpreter, goes with him on regular visits to the city railroad station. To the homeless youngsters, the station smells shelter and, sometimes, a warm stove. It also means food and candy from passing G. I.'s.

Krenzer walks among the hapless kids, smiling and trying to win their confidence. If he strikes a real spark, he and Kim ask the youngster to go along with them to one of the city's orphan homes.

It's high tribute to Krenzer that he has won them over countless times. For these children, like the youthful victims of war everywhere, are dazed, bewildered, often hostile, reduced to scrounging for food and shelter like resourceful little animals.

The Doctor Says . . . Science Has Much to Discover About the Nature of Viruses

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Viruses are no respecters of age, but some viruses certainly attack children much more than grownups. Among the best known of such diseases are measles, mumps and polio—though all of them may attack a susceptible adult.

It is a little difficult to separate the viral diseases of children from those of grownups, but in addition to those mentioned, there are some others. For example during the last few years, many communities have been affected with what is probably a viral disease, sometimes called the vomiting sickness, and spoken of more sedately by medical men as "epidemic vomiting and diarrhea."

This condition comes with remarkable suddenness and after a day or so the children seem to be entirely recovered. For this reason, it has so far been almost impossible to really study this disorder or to find out whether a virus is really responsible or not.

At any rate, those who have had it—and I happen to know that it is not confined to children—get over it promptly and completely without any aftereffects.

There are other curious conditions which seem to spring up from time to time that are equally obscure as to cause and treatment. Sometimes the children or grown-ups affected have symptoms similar to those of mild influenza or "flu." Indeed it is possible that such attacks may be caused by the same virus which is responsible for more typical cases of influenza.

The past 20 years have yielded a great deal of information on many of the viral diseases. There is, however, a long way still to go. Much more has to be learned about the nature of viruses, the differences between the various kinds, and the treatment of the diseases which they cause.

MAY CAUSE NO SYMPTOMS

Probably, viruses are constantly in us or upon us, but often lie quietly without producing symptoms. There is good reason to believe that this happens in some cases. Then under the stress of fever or some other stimulant to the virus, they may start producing noticeable trouble.

The vast majority of children who are attacked by these vague viral infections recover completely without any aftereffects. However, the doctors would feel much better if they knew more definitely what is responsible for some of these outbreaks and felt more certain that they would remain comparatively mild, short and unlikely to produce complications.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — New White House Tenants — President Eisenhower settled down to the White House routine quickly. After his first 48 hours in office, he glanced at a calendar and asked an aide absentmindedly: "What day is it?" Told the answer, he snorted, "My God! you mean I've been here only two days!" . . . Ike has been kept so busy getting his new administration rolling that he hasn't had a chance to sit down alone with his wife and talk over private matters. Mamie has solved this, however, by writing him notes and leaving them on the mantel . . . the First Lady has only one complaint with the White House so far: not enough closet space . . . when the President stood at attention during the inaugural parade, Mamie absentmindedly plunked her pocketbook and gloves down on his chair. He had to wait in a half stoop for her to clear her things away each time before he could sit down. (wives will be wives) . . . Mamie sent a special request to orchestra leader Guy Lombardo to play the tunes she and Ike liked back in the days when they were courting: "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Down Among the Sheltering Palms" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Ike's Ace-In-The-Hole — Talking with General Eisenhower last year, I got the definite impression that he planned to be a one-term President. Recent information from those around the White House seems to confirm this . . . the new President may even make a statement at some appropriate time that will cut the ground out from under his critics. He will say that he seeks only to do the best job possible for the country, is not interested in re-election . . . such a statement, putting the new President above partisan politics with a large portion of the public, would materially strengthen his hand with Congress, would undercut Senator Taft, who while now playing his cards closer to his chest than in the "blast-Durkin days," nevertheless is still regarded as Ike's real opponent on Capitol Hill . . . "Mr. Elephant's target has now shifted from the White House, is centered on patronage czar Attorney General Brownell, suspected of being Dewey's candidate for governor of New York two years hence at which time Taft's bitter enemy, Thomas E., will begin to warm up for one last shot at the Presidency of the United States in 1956 . . . that's the real backstage byplay in Washington, and the real reason why President Eisenhower may have more opposition from one wing of his own party than from the Democrats . . . Ikeites figure that if he lets the public realize he's interested only in doing a good job, doesn't seek re-election, his popular support should be such as to beat Taft at his own game.

ALASKA GOVERNOR TARRIES

Dr. Ernest Gruening, Democrat who's been governor of Alaska longer than any other man in history, dropped in to see his new boss, Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay, whom he has known as a fellow governor.

"I suppose you'll be turning in your resignation," McKay remarked to Gruening. "No, I'm not planning to," replied Gruening. "You see I hold office for a definite statutory term, and my term doesn't expire until March."

Secretary McKay didn't argue the point, even made a public announcement that Gruening would remain until April 1. He has known Gruening at governors' conferences when he, McKay, was governor of Oregon.

Cocktail-Go-Round—Senator Joe McCarthy threw a gay, all-night party at Washington's fashionable Mayflower Hotel during the wee hours the other morning. Over 100 special guests, including a number of millionaires, munched on eggs, beef, and three different kinds of melons, had their choice of dozens of whiskeys and wines, from midnight 'til dawn . . . at the height of the party, Mrs. Herman Welker, wife of the Idaho senator, turned to a friend and exclaimed: "Wheel! isn't this just like Paris!" . . . a party of Nevadans whooped it up so uproariously in the office of Senator George "Molly" Malone that next-door Senator Andy Schoepel of Kansas phoned in a complaint. (Kansas used to be a dry state) . . . Inaugural ball dancers consumed 8,000 gallons of punch, the most nonalcoholic beverage that has flowed in Washington in a long while . . . at the private parties all over town, however, the refreshments packed a punch . . . one cabinet officer who didn't touch a drop of the festive spirits was Ike's new Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Benson . . . busiest partygoers were Mamie's sister and brother-in-law, Colonel and Mrs. George Moore, whose popularity skyrocketed overnight. He's in the public relations business, and his public relations are thriving.

In Capitol Clockrooms—A sub rosa proposal for the first national sales tax in history is on the desk of the new chairman of the Senate finance committee, genial Gene Millikin of Colorado. Prepared by the committee staff, it talks about the "feasibility" of a national sales tax if taxes must be raised further. So far sales taxes have been used only by states and cities . . . the Republican congressional committee, charged with electing house members, made a compilation of the number of popular votes it had swung to GOP congressmen in November. The compilation was aimed at publicity promoting the committee. But it backfired and has been suppressed. For it was found that adding up all votes throughout the nation, there were 300,000 more votes for Democratic members of Congress than Republican. In brief, though the Republicans elected 10 more house members than the Democrats, the Democrats got 300,000 more votes.

Gen. Taylor, 'Mr. Attack', Is Daring And Diplomatic Leader

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—"Mr. Attack" is going into battle again. That's the Army nickname Gen. Maxwell Davenport Taylor will take with him in his new role of 8th Army Commander, succeeding Gen. James A. Van Fleet as boss of ground forces in Korea.

General Taylor, who was Deputy Chief of Staff when he was tagged for his new job, starting his Army career with a more scholarly label. The West Point yearbook called him "one of the most learned members of his class."

These two descriptions of Taylor very neatly frame the man. Few men in the history of any U. S. service can match both his combat record and diplomatic and administrative accomplishments.

On the battlefields his deeds include exploits with the 82nd Airborne Division and command of the 101st Airborne in World War II. On Normandy D-Day he was the first Allied general to hit the mainland of Europe.

He also performed one of the vital military-diplomatic missions of that war—dropping into enemy territory to help negotiate the surrender of Italy.

Off the battlefield, General Taylor is responsible, among other things, for a major revision of the curriculum of West Point, putting more stress on such subjects as economics, history and political science.

"The cadets should not live in a mental cloister; their interests must be catholic, avoiding the small horizons sometimes attributed to the military mind," he says.

Taylor became superintendent of the Academy in 1945, at the age of 44. Only Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at 39, has been a younger head of that school.

Another major decision he made at the Point was the start of the de-emphasis of football, with the ending of games with Notre presses in a well-modulated voice but he's far ahead of you in any subject that comes up.

His secretary reports that it took her a couple of months of practice to get her shorthand up to the speed of his dictation.

"You'd think he wrote out all of his letters in advance and then memorized them before he gave them to you," she says.

With troops, or in an office, he gets the maximum out of his help with an easy-going manner and a minimum of orders.

Discussing physical training at West Point, he is fond of saying, "A brilliant mind is of little value in war if it is not housed in a vigorous body." He lives by this rule, too.

Most Saturday afternoons in the officers' club gym adjoining the Pentagon he could be found beating all comers in handball and squash. He's a flashy tennis player and loves hiking.

The General and his wife have always been conservative in their social life, keeping their outside activities at a minimum. He does not smoke, and drinks little.

He reads a great deal and has mastered four different languages including Japanese. He's also one of the few top generals who delivers an informative, interesting speech.

General Taylor's awards and decorations include everything the U. S. Army has to offer except the Medal of Honor. He has numerous foreign decorations plus an honorary Doctor of Engineering Degree from New York University.

In the opinion of the experts, Taylor's job of commanding U. S. troops in Berlin, calling for the maximum qualities of diplomacy and leadership, makes him perfectly suited for his new assignment.

GEN. MAXWELL TAYLOR: No "mental cloister" for him.

pressed at a time when other leading educators in the U. S. were saying the same thing.

Today, it is hard to reckon his important new assignment with the first fleeting impression you get as you meet him. He looks far too youthful and mild for all that responsibility. Compared to his lean, unlined face and placid blue eyes, his graying hair seems premature.

But you don't have to be around him long to understand the "Mr. Attack" nickname. He

May Save Lives With Blood Bubble Surgery

By FRANK CAREY

BALTIMORE—A Johns Hopkins Hospital surgeon has just reported that an extremely delicate surgical technique — previously dared by only a few doctors and rarely with success—now appears practical for much more common use.

The operation is the removal of a blood-filled bubble, sometimes as large as a basketball, arising on the aorta, or main artery. The thumb-sized aorta is truly the lifeline of the body and any surgery associated with it is always hazardous.

Dr. Henry T. Bahnson, 32, reported the largest series of cases yet attacked by the direct-removal technique and the highest percentage of apparent successes, six out of nine cases. One of the six contained more than a gallon of blood.

Rising like a blister on a weakened automobile inner tube an aortic bubble, or aneurysm, can result from syphilis, hardening of the arteries, or from an injury. Left untreated, it usually causes death within a year from an actual bubble itself. Various kinds of wires have been inserted into the sac and then heated by electricity to promote clotting. Metallic "meshes," including fine watch springs, have been inserted and have promoted clotting by a "stirring-up" action. Several techniques have been aimed at inducing clotting by wrapping the bubble with some material.

Occasionally, Dr. Bahnson told the Johns Hopkins Mmedical Society in his report, when clotting is produced the bubble subsides. However, this is sometimes followed by a recurrence—and death.

The surgeon told the meeting he and his associates had not employed any operating methods brand new to surgery, but had applied advances made in blood vessel surgery over the past decade by many surgeons.

These include improved techniques for clamping blood vessels so as not to interfere too strenuously with normal blood flows, and for sewing blood vessels.

This incapacity of control of man's machines should by itself advise men who are its victims not to await salvation solely through the techniques of production and organization.—Pope Plus XII.

BLOOD BUBBLE like the one shown here is now handled by modern surgical techniques.

TELLING THEIR STORIES—It is a tradition in the Escanaba Rotary Club that new members have the opportunity to tell the club about themselves. Called a vocational service program, it is designed to better acquaint their fellow members with the new members and to inform them concerning the vocation of the new member.

Four of Rotary's recent members in Escanaba appeared on such a program Monday noon. They are Andrew Skaug, certified public accountant; Ed Marenger, Escanaba farm implement dealer; Paul Snyder, representing a local floral company; and Claude Tobin, proprietor of a taxi business.

You will be interested, as were the Rotarians, in some of the details of the new members' reports.

BUSINESS RELATIONS—Claude Tobin Jr. was born in Escanaba and has lived most of his life in this community, except for some time spent in military service. The taxi company receives an average of 450 telephone calls per day, some of them inquiries about subjects other than service.

"We have had calls from husbands who ask us where the taxi took their wives, and calls from wives asking where the taxi took their husbands," Tobin said.

Tobin also has an interest in a recent enterprise—the manufacture of canned cat food, made from Bay de Noc smelt and grains. "It is also a good all-around diet for your dog," Tobin said in response to a question.

Note: The taxis have lost two races with the stork, possibly because motors in all of the cabs are equipped with governors that limit the speed.

BOMBERS TO FLOWERS—Paul Snyder, associated here with a floral company, has experience from bombers to blossoms. Born in Pennsylvania, he went to Ohio with his parents when he was a boy. Later he was employed in Chicago.

In 1940 he married the former Marjorie Wickert of Escanaba.

Then came the war, as they say in the novels, and Snyder served as a navigator on a bomber in the Pacific theater. Returning to Escanaba after the war he settled down into the business of growing and retailing flowers.

WIT AND HUMOR—Ed Marenger, farm implement dealer, was born and raised in Flat Rock, worked on the family farm and was employed in the woods at the age of 15.

When he was 21 Ed married and the Marengers now have a family of three boys and two girls. The three sons were guests at the Rotary Club meeting to hear their father make what he described "as the first speech in my life."

They heard their father describe his vocation and embellish it with stories that evoked laughter and applause. One of the stories concerned the old Frenchman who came in to buy a "cog wheel" to repair a piece of farm machinery.

The farmer was unable to describe the "cog wheel" by name or number, so he was given one "cog wheel" at a time. "It's the same like this," said the Frenchman, holding up the last one he had tried, "but this one—the teeth are too close apart!"

Ed also told the story of the man who came in and Ed remarked that "it's kind of foggy, isn't it?"

"Yes," replied the customer gloomily, "and that fog horn blew all night and it is still foggy!"

ACCOUNTANT TRAINING — If you want to be a certified public accountant in Michigan, be prepared to spend some time as an apprentice.

So Andrew Skaug, Escanaba CPA, advised the Rotary Club in his talk on vocational service.

Michigan law requires that a person with a High School diploma spend four years in apprenticeship to a CPA; and two years if he is a college graduate.

This has not discouraged young men from entering the profession, however. For Skaug said that back in 1946 there was only one CPA in the Upper Peninsula. There are now 18.

Born at Stonington, Skaug graduated from Escanaba High School, attended Michigan State College and University of Michigan. After completing military service he attended Cloverland Commercial College in Escanaba and then established an office here.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Are you acquainted with the word saltatory? It means moving by leaps, and, because it doesn't require much imagination to construe some dances as a series of leaps, the term also means "pertaining to dancing." Certain birds are classed as Saltatoria because of a little dance that they execute in the mating season, and grasshoppers and crickets are members of the Saltatoria division of insects, the leapers.

Also by way of French we have the words assail and assault, both of which mean to attack violently or with hostile intent. Tracing these back to their Latin sources, we find that they were words of leaping, meaning to leap upon or rush upon a foe.

Decline Noted In Food Prices

LANSING (P)—Food prices declined again in ten outstate industrial Michigan cities in the last quarter of 1952, the State Labor Department said today.

A price survey showed food had declined an average of 1.9 per cent over the previous quarter. At the end of December it stood at 0.8 per cent below the end of December, 1951.

A substantial decline in meat and egg prices and smaller declines in the prices of butter, fats and oils, sugar and sweets and beverages contributed to sending the department's food price index to 216.4.

This compared with 220.4 last September and 100 in September, 1941.

Food prices declined during the quarter in all surveyed cities except Lansing where there was no change over September prices.

Prices dropped in Battle Creek 2.7 per cent, Flint 1.8 per cent, Grand Rapids 2.4 per cent, Kalamazoo one per cent, Marquette 2.3 per cent, Muskegon, 2.5 per cent, Pontiac .9 per cent and Saginaw-Bay City 0.9 per cent.

Jackson Business Man Expected To Be New State GOP Chairman

LANSING (P)—The Republican State Central Committee is today to choose a new state chairman today to replace Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary who saw the job through the last campaign.

Committee sources said they thought that David Kendall, Jackson business man, was the most likely choice as successor. He was one of the district chairmen named by Cleary to handle campaign details since Cleary was a candidate for state office in the same campaign.

Mrs. Catherine Gibson of Monroe is a candidate for vice-chairman but whether the incumbent, Mrs. Mary Streit of Detroit, will seek reelection has not been decided finally.

Harry Smith of Kalamazoo is expected to be reelected secretary.

Son Of Bataan March Victim To Accept Commission In Army

KALAMAZOO (P)—Not for revenge, but just because he has always wanted to, the son of a Bataan death march victim plans to accept an Army commission when he finishes his ROTC course next June.

Gordon J. Duisterhof, 22, of Detroit, is in his final year at Western Michigan College.

Six years ago young Duisterhof received a Distinguished Service Cross award posthumously to his father, Maj. Helmut J. Duisterhof, "for heroism in defending the Philippines in World War II."

Reds Close Catholic Seminary In China

HONG KONG (P)—The Catholic seminary in Suancheng, Anhwei province, has been closed down by the Chinese Reds, Catholic headquarters here have announced.

Rector of the seminary, Rev. Fr. Juan B. Lazpita of Berritz, Spain, and two of his assistants arrived in Hong Kong recently after having been turned out of the seminary in December, 1951. The three priests continued their work until their funds were exhausted. Then they were expelled by the Reds as "indigent foreigners."

Tests Prove Fire Real Killer Of Passengers In Air Crashes

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Fire is the real killer in aircraft crashes.

That's the finding of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, which has a major research program under way aimed at drastically reducing the death toll in plane accidents.

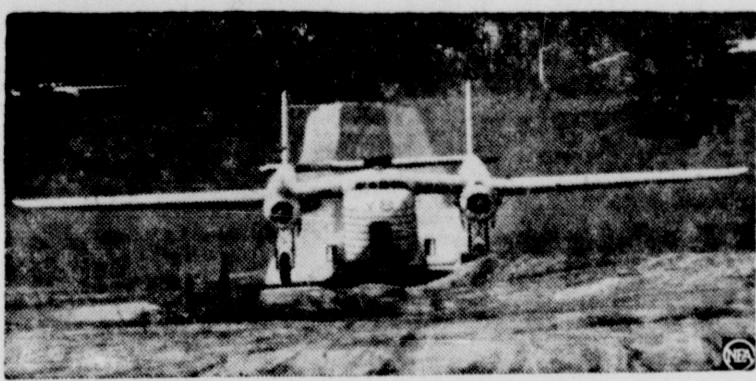

It isn't the flames which usually turn a crashed airplane into a mass coffin for all the passengers, the number of survivors from plane accidents would be considerably higher, NACA scientists have found.

The actual results of the impact of the plane with the ground is not the main fatal element. "Aeromedical research has shown that very high decelerations can be withstood by a human, provided they persist for only a short time," an NACA report states.

This fact is also supported by almost all eye-witness reports of crashes. When rescuers have been able to get close to planes which have just crashed, they invariably report screams, moans and shouts from persons alive inside the cabin.

It is the inevitable fire which drives off rescuers and kills the trapped passengers.

In its fight to cut these fire deaths to an absolute minimum, NACA is in the middle of a spectacular research project. It goes one step beyond previous studies of fire-fighting equipment and chemicals, and research into the various firing temperatures of fubricating oils, fuels and hydraulic fluids.

Using war-weary C-46 and C-82 cargo planes, NACA creates actual crashes.

"We simulate a take-off accident in which the airplane fails to become airborne; strikes an embankment; shears off the propellers and the landing gear, strikes trees or poles; ruptures the fuel tanks, and then skids along the ground to a stop," an NACA report explains.

This produces a "maximum array of potential ignition sources." Such a test, with the planes loaded with more than 1000 gallons of fuel and engines at full throttle, contains the elements of just about every crash fire hazard.

A monorail on a 1700-foot runway keeps the plane heading straight to its crash destination. Results are recorded as follows:

"High-speed motion pictures provide a detailed photographic record. Installed in the planes are fire-proof, shock-insulated boxes filled with instrumentation to measure temperature, combustible vapors and decelerations. Other instrumentation provides fuel-line failures and short circuits or arcs. A total of 102 thermocouples and heat registering devices are installed in engine nacelles and in wings and fuselage."

Cost of this program, which will end up saving thousands of lives, is included in next year's NACA budget request of $58,872,000. This year NACA financed the work out of its $48,640,000 budget. Last year NACA asked for $50,563,000 but was cut five per cent by Congress.

Most of the results are considered so important to national security they are being kept secret. However, they will be built into new military and commercial aircraft.

A few results of the fire studies have been revealed. For example, it was learned that in many cases temperatures are caused in crashes which are too low to ignite the gasoline, but which can set in flames the oil or hydraulic fluid. These flames, then, touch off the gasoline.

Another discovery was that it is possible to cut off the ignition on the engines too soon when a pilot sees a crash is imminent. If it is cut off before the flow of fuel has been stopped, fire frequently results as the gasoline passes through the engines and hits the hot metal of the tail pipe. Findings of this nature have

SUICIDES INCREASE

SINGAPORE (P)—One hundred and twenty five persons took their own lives last year compared to 105 in 1951. Their favorite method of suicide was taking poison, especially caustic soda. Seven persons threw themselves from high buildings, the others killed themselves by drowning, hanging or using firearms.

Israel Patrol Chases Arab Pipe-Stealers

JERUSALEM (P)—An Israeli Army spokesman reported today that an Israel Army patrol chased a band of pipe-stealing Arabs back into Egypt early Sunday after an all-night running battle.

In the action in the Western Negeb Desert the Arabs were believed to have suffered serious losses, the spokesman said. The marauders were stealing irrigation pipes from a Jewish settlement, he explained.

It was the first serious clash reported on the Israeli-Egyptian frontier in recent weeks.

Schools Report Attendance Is Down; Illness

Absences in Delta County schools due to influenza, measles, mumps and colds have been mounting this week, school officials report.

Reports of influenza have been numerous, both in children and adults.

No epidemic proportions are evident, however, the Delta-Memorial Health department reports.

The Escanaba public schools reported 362 absent this morning. Gladstone High School had 137 absent Monday afternoon, 55 more than Monday morning. Today, 132 were absent from Gladstone public schools, 69 in the high school and 63 in the grade schools. Attendance at All Saints Catholic school is normal.

Bark River High School reported 57 out this morning, five more than yesterday. Many in Bark River-Harris grade schools also are absent. Four Bark River teachers also are ill.

Wells township, which operates seven schools, has about 10 per cent of its enrollment absent due to measles, mumps and influenza.

Rapid River High School reports few absences. About 14 of 200 were absent today in the high school and five or six in each of the grade rooms. Several cases of influenza, measles and mumps have been reported, however.

ANOTHER MICHIGAN MAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Roger M. Kyes of Michigan to be Deputy Secretary of Defense.

He would be top aide to Charles E. Wilson, confirmed yesterday as Secretary of Defense by a 77 to 6 vote.

Kyes, like Wilson a former General Motors Corporate official, has agreed to sell about 3,000 shares of the auto firm's stock he holds and to dispose of some shareholdings in other concerns.

Wilson tapped Kyes and three other business men to be his chief subordinates but Eisenhower sent the Senate only the nomination of Kyes.

at 11:20 a. m. March, 1952, by Lt. David C. Brigham of Rockford, Ill.

It was a bright, cloudless day. Brigham said he got a very good look at the object from about 30 to 50 feet for about 10 seconds.

The pilot described it as "about eight inches in diameter, very thin, round, and as shiny as polished chromium; had no apparent projections and left no exhaust trails or vapor trails."

He said it caught up with a thunderjet, hovered a few moments and then shot out of sight. The F-84 pilot whose name was not revealed, did not see it.

It was the second disclosure in a week by Air Force intelligence of mysterious flying objects over Northern Japan near the Russian-Siberia area.

Brigham was flying a prop-driven reconnaissance craft at 6,000 feet when the F-84 Thunderjet drew alongside.

Then, he said, he saw the disc to the right of and just behind the Thunderjet. He said it appeared to be traveling 30 to 40 miles an hour faster than the E-84, which was going 150-160 miles an hour.

County Treasurer Distributes Tax Diversion Funds

Sales tax diversion monies totaling $51,344.28 are being sent out today to township and city treasurers in Delta County by Mrs. Ann Villeneuve, county treasurer. The city of Escanaba receives the lion's share, $23,665.20.

These monies, representing the portion of the state sales tax which is diverted to local municipalities, are sent out four times a year. The current diversion is for the last quarter of 1952.

The amount sent out is based on population. It is figured at $1.56 per capita.

Following are the amounts going to various township and city treasurers: Baldwin, $107,844; Bark River, $200,772; Bay de Noc, $602.16; Brampton, $865.80; Cornette, $839.28; Escanaba Twp., $1,661.40; Ensign, $695.76; Fairbanks, $780.00; Ford River, $1,522.56; Garden Twp., $667.68; Maple Ridge, $1,818.96; Masonville, $1,817.40; Nahma, $1,488.24; Wells, $3,678.48; Gladstone, $736.36; Garden Village, $622.44.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today without much enthusiasm.

The gains ran from fractions to around a point. Scattered minus signs served to restrain the rise. Major groups out in front included railroads, steels, motors, rubbers, chemicals, and utilities, but in each of these sections there were backward spots.

Higher stocks included Southern Railway, Paramount Pictures, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Allied Chemical, International Paper, New York Shipbuilding, Liggett & Myers, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Woolworth, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, and Radio Corp.

Schools Study Sales Tax Split

Lansing (AP)—The school lobby said "yes, but—" yesterday to the Conlin plan for revising the Sales Tax Diversion Amendment.

Representatives of educational groups gave the plan generalized approval and agreed to sit down to work out details of it, but withheld final approval.

Under the plan, sponsored by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), the public schools would be given two cents of the three-cent sales tax, agree to absorb the cost of teacher retirement system and give up their constitutionally-mandated state school aid appropriation.

They now get half a cent of the sales tax plus a mandated school aid grant equal to 44.77 per cent of the preceding year's sales tax collections.

Conlin's plan would actually give the schools $12,000,000 more, but he contends the loss to the state would be offset by getting rid of the delayed-motion school aid clause which upsets state budget-making.

Manpower Still Draft Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the Selective Service System reiterated he is still worried about manpower—but not enough to recommend keeping draftees in uniform longer than the present 24 months.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said in an interview he is not now recommending any changes in draft legislation, and things the first thing to be done is "intensive work by the executive department to get more manpower available."

Gen. Hershey said specifically he is not recommending any extension of service beyond 24 months.

Gen. Hershey said the Manpower Committee of the Office of Defense Mobilization has been going over the possibility of getting more military manpower from among deferred on dependency grounds.

"The first approach to getting more manpower from this group, in my opinion, is to get the guy who was deferred for an education and then became a father," Hershey said.

College deferment standards perhaps should be changed, Hershey said, to require higher qualifying scores on the selective service college qualification test or higher class standing. Now a qualifying score on the test is 70. Hershey mentioned the possibility of raising that to 75.

All changes in the college deferment program, if there are to be any, should be announced soon so students may be aware of them before they complete plans for entering college this fall, Hershey said.

Porchlight Parade:

Special Polio Fund Drive Scheduled Here Thursday

Special efforts are being made to step up the campaign to raise funds to fight polio in Delta county and in Escanaba and Gladstone Thursday night a Porchlight Parade will be held with house-to-house calls by volunteer workers for the March of Dimes.

"Turn on your porchlight between 7 and 9 p. m. Thursday as the signal that you are willing to fight polio with a contribution to the March of Dimes," Don Guindon, general city chairman, said today.

Men and women of Escanaba who have a firm belief in the cause of better health for the community's children and escape from the dread disease—polio—will make the house-to-house calls.

Plan Gladstone Drive
Chairman Guindon called upon all persons who will volunteer as solicitors for the Porchlight Parade to report at the Sherman Hotel at 6:45 p. m. Thursday.

In Gladstone a similar Porchlight Parade drive is planned for Thursday night between 7 and 9. The Parade organization there is headed by Atty. Clair Hoehn, general city chairman for the March of Dimes.

The Porchlight Parade are special fund raising events, of which several are being planned between now and the close of the drive at the end of this month.

Fund Reaches $3,029
Contributions from the 10,000 appeal letters and from organizations and service clubs are slow in coming in, according to Atty John H. Root, Delta county March of Dimes chairman.

Cut In Income Taxes Promised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Reed (R-NY) said today the House Ways and Means Committee "definitely" will approve on Feb. 16 a bill cutting income tax rates by 11 per cent starting June 30.

And Reed told reporters, after a closed meeting of his tax-writing group "The House will pass the bill right away—before the end of February."

He added that prospects for early passage are "perfect."

Indications were, however, that Treasury representatives would be invited to discuss the tax cutting bill before the committee on Feb. 16, if not before.

Leading Spy Hunter Retired At Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—One of the nation's foremost spy hunters, Edward Scheidt, 50-year-old chief of the Detroit headquarters, will retire from the Federal Bureau of Investigation FBI Jan. 31.

Scheidt said his physician had advised him to seek less strenuous work because he suffers from ulcers.

Scheidt holds numerous commendations from FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, including those for his work in convicting Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the atomic spies; Alger Hiss, the former State Department executive, and Judith Coplin, one-time Justice Department secretary convicted of passing secrets to a Russian lover.

Elks Fathers And Sons Have Banquet

Fr. Charles Carmody of Garden told Elks fathers and sons at their annual banquet last night at the Escanaba lodge that the close association of fathers and their sons is an important social aspect in a troubled world.

The speaker suggested that fathers learn the value of fraternity with their sons in all activities and suggested that the sons learn and appreciate the sacrifices being made by their parents in their behalf.

Coach Joe Milokna of the Escanaba High School showed motion pictures of the Eskymo's games last fall with Iron Mountain and Kingsford.

Approximately 120 fathers and sons attended the banquet.

Get No Salaries
"The means we shall use to spread this truth are often called 'psychological warfare.' Don't be afraid of that term. 'Psychological warfare' is the struggle for the minds and wills of men."

He went on to outline a five-part program, one point of which called for creation of an agency to "handle the national psychological effort."

The new group, members of which will receive no salaries, includes:

William H. Jackson, 51, New York investment executive, chairman; C. D. Jackson, 50, New York, publisher of Fortune magazine; Sigvard Larmon, 62, president of Young and Rubicam, New York advertising agency; Gordon Gray, 44, president of the University of North Carolina; Barkley McKee Henry, 50, Princeton, N. J., director of the U. S. Trust Company; John C. Huges, 62, New York, President of McCampbell and Company, textile representatives; Abbott Washburn, 38, Minneapolis, Minn., formerly of General Mills, Inc.

Robert Curtis, administrative assistant to the President, is the eighth member of the board.

C. D. Jackson represents the secretary of state and Larmon the director for mutual security. The secretary of defense will be asked to name a representative.

Hagerty told newsmen the committee "presumably" will look into the operations of the Voice of America, the Central Intelligence Agency, the United States Information Service and other organs of government.

In other actions yesterday, the President—

1. Nominated four new members of the Board of Directors of the Commodity Credit Corporation. They were True D. Morse, St. Louis; J. Earl Coke, Berkeley, Calif.; John M. Davis, Wellsville, Mo.; and Romeo E. Short, Brinkley, Ark.

2. Nominated John C. Allen of Lombard, Ill., to be assistant postmaster general.

Kiwanis Club Visits New Water Plant On First Day Operation

Following their noon luncheon at the House of Ludington Monday Escanaba Kiwanis Club members took a tour of the new $360,000 municipal water plant, which went into operation for the first time Monday.

The visiting Kiwanians watched various operations in the attractive new building on Sand Point. Only one filter tank was in operation, but the capacity of the unit, 1 1/2 million gallons, was near the normal consumption for this time of year.

Mary Doussept Is The Bride Of Louis S. Adams

Bouquets of mixed flowers adorned the altars of St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba Saturday for the wedding of Miss Mary Florence Doussept, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Doussept of Algoma Mills, Ontario, Canada, and Louis Stanley Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Adams.

The vows were spoken before Father Stephen Schneider, O. F. M., who was celebrant of the nuptial high mass at 9. The music of the wedding mass was sung by St. Joseph's Choir with "Ave Maria," the offertory hymn. The traditional processional and recessional were played by Miss Eva Cossette, organist.

The bride's gown was styled with a bodice of imported lace and a full skirt of ivory satin with a net overskirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a coronet of net and lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white mums.

Bridal Aides

Mrs. Charles Gouin, sister of the bridegroom, who was matron of honor, wore a gown of Nile green nylon net with a lace bodice and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white mums. Mrs. Joseph Doussept, sister-in-law of the bride, the bridesmaid, wore pink nylon net with lace trim and she carried a contrasting colonial bouquet.

Joseph Doussept, brother of the bride, and Charles Gouin were the bridegroom's attendants. Seating the guests were Robert Farrell and A/2c Glen Adams.

Mrs. Doussept attended her daughter's wedding in a royal blue crepe dress designed with a lace bodice. Her accessories were black. Mrs. Adams wore a wine colored crepe with black accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white carnations.

Breakfast and Reception

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom's sister and a reception for 200 guests was held from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Carpenter Hall. Silver bells were arranged with lavender and white flowers in the table decorations centered by the three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Pat Hoskin of Gladstone presided at the silver service and Miss Dorothy Porath served the punch.

The newlyweds who are honeymooning in Wisconsin will make their home in Kenosha. Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Art Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Henry of Racine, A/2c Glen Adams of Clovis AFB, Clovis, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Doussept, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doussept of Algoma Mills, Ontario, Canada.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH in Escanaba was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Miss Mary Florence Doussept, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Doussept of Algoma Mills, Ontario, Canada, and Louis Stanley Adams of 1002 Ludington St. A wedding breakfast and a home reception followed the ceremony. (Ridings Photo)

Today's Recipes

Cranberry-Mince-meat Cake

Ingredients: 2 cups fresh cranberries, 1/2 cup water, one 9-ounce package condensed mince-meat, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1/2 cup chopped dates, 2 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 3/4 cup sugar, 2 eggs (well-beaten).

Method: Put cranberries and water in saucepan and boil gently until berries pop, about 10 minutes. Cut mince-meat into small pieces and add; cook until mince-meat and cranberries are blended—about 5 minutes. Set aside to cool; add walnuts and dates. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream sugar and shortening; beat in eggs. Gradually add dry ingredients alternately with cranberry mixture, stirring well after each addition. Pour into well greased 9-inch ring mold. Bake in moderate (350F) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

35-Year Old Man Seeks Wife In Image Of Mother

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

When a man sets out to marry a girl who looks like his mother, acts like her, and even has a name like her, he is not marrying a girl but an image. That is the problem facing the young man who wrote:

(Q) "I am 35 and still single. I don't know how I escaped marriage but I want to marry, have a family and companionship like other fellows. I want a pretty girl, like my mother, one who loves a home and children as my mother does, and one whose name is either Mary or Anne, my mother's names. I am not going to try the Lonely Hearts but where will I find such a girl?"

(A) You will find a girl who is an exact duplicate of your mother only in your mind, not in real life. The reason you are single now and will probably remain single for many years to come is that you are trying to find a person who simply does not exist.

Take the matter of the name for example. It would be chance indeed for you to find a young woman who was right for you in other respects who had one of your mother's names. After all, why is this so important to you? If you love the young woman, her name should be as dear to you as your mother's names are.

As for similarity in looks, that is almost impossible—not to mention unimportant. Most young women who marry want a home and family, and they will be companionable to their husbands if the husbands do their part.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

Dolores A. Hart Bride Saturday Of Ray Mariucci

A double ring service united in marriage Miss Dolores Ann Hart and Ray Mariucci on Saturday morning at All Saints' Catholic Church. Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette was celebrant of the 10 a. m. nuptial Mass.

Bouquets of mixed cut flowers adorned the altar. Music for the ceremony was furnished by the student choir.

The lovely bride was escorted by the white carpeted aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown of candlelight satin was styled with a snug bodice and yoke of nylon net with a jeweled neckline and long fitted sleeves coming to points at the wrist. The bouffant skirt had a chapel train and bustle back. A Juliette cap of seed pearls and net secured her bridal veil of illusion. She carried a white prayer book, the bridegroom's gift, and a colonial bouquet of white carnations and red roses tied with knotted white satin streamers and lily of the valley.

Her bridal aides were her sister, Mrs. William Beveridge Jr., as matron of honor and the Misses Ruth Ellen Scholberg and Pat Bolger, bridesmaids. Their floor length taffeta gowns were fashioned alike with off-the-shoulder necklines forming a bertha collar. They wore Juliette caps and elbow length gloves to correspond with the color of their dresses. The matron of honor's gown was of a winterberry wine shade and she carried a colonial bouquet of pale pink carnations. Miss Scholberg's gown was gold and her bouquet was deep pink carnations. Miss Bolger's gown was forest green and yellow carnations formed her bouquet. The bride's little sister Louella was the flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of white organdy with a round neckline, puffed sleeves and tiered ruffle skirt, and tied with a pale blue sash. Her hairdress consisted of a heart shaped crown of white net and she carried a bouquet like that of the bride. Little Michael Guiney, cousin of the bride, wore a white suit and carried the rings on a white taffeta pillow.

Dinner at Log Cabin Jack Guiney, uncle of the bride served as the best man and ushering were Paul Mariucci, nephew of the groom, and Mobile Mariucci, brother of the groom.

OSKAR'S NO SILLY GOOSE — After taking a gander at the fate of his flockmates, "Oskar," the roller-skating gander of Hamburg, Germany, decided that getting the bird on the stage was much more pleasant than being the bird on the table. His owner puts him on exhibition at poultry shows.

Hart chose a navy blue dress with white accessories and the groom's mother wore an aqua suit with brown accessories. Each had a corsage of red roses.

A wedding breakfast for the bride party and family members was held at the bride's parental home immediately after the ceremony, and the bride dinner with covers for 35 guests was served at the Log Cabin. A reception for over 200 was held at the bride's parental home from 3 until 6.

White and yellow streamers formed the home decorations. The four tiered wedding cake, topped by the traditional miniature bride and groom centered the serving table. White candles in crystal holders were placed at either side of the cake. The Misses Lois LaFond and Jean Harvey poured and Miss Pat Ades served.

Road Report Is Submitted

The annual report of the Schoolcraft County Road Commission for 1952, presented yesterday afternoon at a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors, revealed a cash balance of $17,977.43 on hand at the close of the year.

Including a cash balance from 1951 of $12,205.16, the road board had total receipts for the year of $330,242.09. Most of the receipts came from motor vehicle highway funds and payments on the state highway maintenance contract.

Included in the expenditures was $25,000 deposited with the highway department on a federal aid project in Mueller township. Construction of the project has not been carried out yet.

A balance sheet accompanying the report shows a county road equity in land, buildings, inventories and equipment of $157,101.37 after making allowances for depreciation and accounts and notes payable.

Accounts payable total $15,719.42 and notes to be paid amount to $40,965.91. The depreciated value of road equipment is set at $142,048.63.

The report was read to the board by Eugene Johnson, county road engineer, who also explained various items and answered numerous questions. Also present were Albert Ackerman, superintendent, and Commissioners John S. Wilde, of Manistique, Henry Orschel, Cooks, and Orley Losey, Germfask.

Robert Sharkey, charged with driving away a motor vehicle without consent, was bound over to Circuit Court following his examination yesterday afternoon in Manistique justice court.

Sharkey was jailed in default of $1,000 bond.

He was arrested a few weeks ago for allegedly driving away a car belonging to John Tanguay.

Sportsmen's Club To Sponsor Yearly Dance Saturday Night, Feb. 14

The Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club will hold its annual dancing party Saturday night, Feb. 14, at the K-C hall, it is announced. Earl Cowman and Russell Brunet will be in charge.

Music will be furnished by the Swing Kings and lunch and refreshments will be served. This will be the last dance before Lent.

Two guest prizes, one for men and one for women, will be given away. Tickets may be purchased at Henry Jahn's Locker Plant, Dupont's, Bob Hoar's, Manistique Oil Co., Top O' Lakes, and Shorty's Barber Shop.

Large Attendance Recorded At Square Dance On Saturday

Attendance at the Saturday night session of the Manistique Square Dance Club was the largest since the series of square dances was started, it is reported.

Several visitors from Germfask attended the party, bringing their own lunch. The club now has a membership of over 50 couples.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening by Mrs. A. W. Cockram, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign. Proceeds were contributed to the polio fund.

Jackson Prison Gets New Medical Director

LANSING (AP)—Dr. David Sher has been named the new medical director at Southern Michigan Prison, Corrections Commissioner Ernest C. Brooks said today.

Dr. Sher was staff surgeon at the prison and is reputedly a strong supporter of the progressive medicine introduced into the prison. The job of medical director for the whole corrections department, which Dr. Finch also held, remains vacant.

Dr. Finch quit Jan. 15 and issued a statement in which he protested what he called "brutal treatment" of prisoners under the administration of Warden William H. Bannan.

APARTMENT NAMED 'IKE' RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A Brazilian construction firm has given the name "Ike" to a new eight-story apartment building it has just completed in the Copacabana section.

Polio Contributions Running Under 1952 As Drive Nears End

Contributions to the March of Dimes in Schoolcraft County are running considerably under last year as the campaign enters its final week, it is reported by Mrs. A. W. Cockram, general chairman.

Collections last year totaled approximately $2,700 but the 1953 figure will be well under that unless more substantial giving is recorded this week. The campaign will close Jan. 31, the chairman said.

Several fund-raising events are scheduled throughout the area this week, including a second benefit party at the Elks Club and a benefit basketball game in the new gymnasium Saturday night.

19 Rural Fire Calls Reported During Last Year

The Manistique fire department responded to 19 rural fire calls during 1952, according to an annual report submitted yesterday to the County Board of Supervisors by Elmer Boal, local fire chief.

The first 1952 call, recorded on March 5, resulted in the death of William Maxwell, of Thompson. His home was a total loss.

Other calls were listed as follows:

- March 14—Hargreaves house, no damage.
- April 7—Lawrence Jenerou, River Road, grass fire.
- April 16—James Jenerou, River Road, grass fire; Eli Cousineau, River Road, grass fire.
- May 1—John Anderson, East Road, old root house timbers set afire by grass fire.
- May 3—Ed Woodruff, M-94, roof fire from chimney, total loss.
- May 6—Mrs. Malloch, Tannery Location, no damage.
- May 10—Leo Gould, chicken coop destroyed.
- Sept. 1—Lucille Higgins, two calls, Indian Lake cabin destroyed.
- Sept. 6—Alphonse Verschure, M-94, false alarm.
- Sept. 13—Arthur Grey, Cooks, truck burned.
- Oct. 10—Car and auto transport burning following fatal crash on US-2, near Cooks Corners.
- Oct. 22—Joslin, River Road, chicken house burned with loss of several chickens.
- Nov. 5—Fred Dundberg, M-94, car burned.
- Nov. 8—Trailer and hunting equipment belonging to Richard H. Burgess, of Flat Rock, burned, total loss.
- Nov. 13—Axel Larson, route 2, oil stove out of control.
- Nov. 19—Floyd Sample, Thompson, roof fire.

Presbyterians Hold Congregation Meet Tomorrow Evening

The Presbyterian Church will hold its annual congregational meeting tomorrow evening at the church, beginning at 8 p. m.

Included on the program will be election of elders and trustees, the hearing of various annual reports and discussion of a proposed building enlargement program.

Presentation of a skit and the showing of slides of church activities also are scheduled.

Annual Report On Soldiers, Sailors Board Is Presented

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission spent $1,151.79 last year, according to its annual report submitted yesterday to the Board of Supervisors.

The report listed a balance of $1,961.27 to start with, plus an appropriation from the county of $950. A balance of $1,759.18 at year's end was reported.

The report was signed by Fred H. Hahne, chairman, and A. F. Hall and E. R. Monroe, members.

Old-Time Country School Was Never Like This--

Robert Fletcher, of Durant, Iowa, has added television to the three R's of the traditional country school curriculum. Fletcher teaches a group of 16 pupils of various ages, at the Central Rural School near Durant, Iowa. He believes that television is the ideal way to teach living history and current events to the youngsters. At right, the whole class assembles to "help" teacher adjust the television antenna. Below, class assembles for their most popular instruction. Durant says that absenteeism, has ceased to be any problem in the television-equipped rural school.

Aged Woodsman Is Called By Death

Peter Nye, 80, a resident of Schoolcraft county since 1905, passed away at 2:45 a. m. yesterday at Cloverland Lodge where he had been living since 1947.

He was born Feb. 28, 1872, in Germany and came to the United States about 50 years ago. He was employed most of his life here as a woodsman, and his last employment was with the Heinz Lumber Company. His wife died many years ago.

There are no known survivors.

Funeral services will be held at 8 a. m. tomorrow from St. Francis de Sales Church, with the Rev. George Pernaski, assistant pastor, officiating. The body will be placed in Lakeview vault and will be buried in Fairview cemetery next spring under the direction of the Messier-Broulliere funeral home.

Friends may now call at the funeral home.

Junior Jumping Results Listed

MANISTIQUE — Scorers last night completed tabulation of winners in the junior ski jumping tournament at Manistique, held Sunday afternoon on the new junior si slide at Jamestown Slough.

Winners in four classes follow:

Class 1—Won by Tom Polkinghorne; Iron Mt.; Dan Harbick, Manistique, second; Ken Jacobson, Iron Mt., third; Morris Powers, Manistique, fourth.

Class 2—Won by William Erikson, Iron Mt.; Jim Blomquist, Iron Mt., second; Don Polkinghorne, Iron Mt., third.

Class 3—Won by Jack Forstrom, Manistique; Marvin Nordling, Caspian, second; Faren Smith, Niagara, third.

Class 4—Won by Daniel Hillier, Marquette; Gardner Ness, Ishpeming, second; Warren Carlson, Iron Mt., third.

Beverly Gentz, 15 year old Manistique girl rider, placed seventh in Class 2 in a field of 30 riders.

Judges were Bob Cowell, Munising, and Pat Paquette, Iron Mt.

The largest jump was 65 feet, the distances being reduced because of a cross wind.

Gophers Get By Purdue 77 To 72

CHICAGO —The Minnesota Gophers, safely by one of this week's hurdles in their drive to stay in the Big Ten title picture, began preparing today for still another.

They took sole ownership of third place Monday night by beating Purdue 77-72 for their sixth victory in nine conference games.

The Gophers face Michigan State (5-3) in a direct showdown for third ranking next Saturday. The loser of that game will go to all practical purposes, forfeit even an outside chance for the crown.

Indiana, leading the race with victories in all eight conference games, and Illinois, the runnerup with a 6-2 mark, were idle Monday night and will meet Feb. 7.

In the only other Big Ten activity, Northwestern surprised shipping Ohio State 82-73 as NU forward Tom Blaha outscored the Buckeyes' ace, Paul Ebert, 25 points to 24.

Chuck Mencil's 24 points were the big difference in the Gopher victory over Purdue.

Purdue's trip to Northwestern and the Minnesota-Michigan State clash at East Lansing Saturday are the only conference games remaining this week.

Leo Durocher Is High On Rookie Shortstop

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK —So enamored is he with rookie Daryl Spencer that manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants plans to convert all-star shortstop Alvin Dark into a second baseman to make room for the 23-year-old strong boy.

Spencer, a towering right-handed hitter, is moving up from Minneapolis to take a bid for a regular job. Last season he batted .294 for the Millers and accumulated the identical average in a week's play at the Polo grounds. He also impressed Durocher with his power, his finesse at shortstop and his powerful right arm. He has hit over 20 homers for three years, reaching 27 at Minneapolis last year.

"Spencer reminds me a lot of Travis Jackson," enthused Durocher. "He throws just as hard and as accurate. His hitting and fielding are above the average. So is his speed afoot. He can pull the ball off any pitcher you've ever seen and blast it out of the park."

Durocher said he thought Dark would be able to handle second base with no difficulty.

"I think it is easy for a shortstop to play second. I did it when I was with the Yankees. All you've got to do is learn to make the pivot."

Durocher had high praise for Rance Pless, another rookie, who Leo thought might win the third base job. Pless, a 27-year-old Nashville graduate, led the Southern Association with a .364 batting average.

Cy C. Young of Modesto, Calif., the first American ever to win the Olympic javelin championship, established an Olympic mark of 242 feet 3/4 inches in the 1952 games.

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

Ishpeming's undefeated status in Upper Peninsula basketball circles survived a shaky weekend. . . First the Hematites were forced to perform with amazing accuracy from the free throw line to get by Escanaba, 66-56, Friday night. . . Enroute to that win the Hematites sank 16 straight gift tosses and canned 22 of 27 for the evening.

But Saturday night the Ishpeming defending U. P. champs were pressed even harder. . . Playing at Sault Ste. Marie, Ishpeming was trailing 54-52 with just 10 seconds remaining in the game. . . At that point forward Don Kangas flipped in a field goal and was fouled while getting the shot off. . . He stepped to the free throw line and dropped it in to give Ishpeming a 55-54 decision.

Speaking of two-platoon football and the new limited substitution rule in regard to Upper Peninsula high schools, Jim Ripley of the Menominee Herald Leader says: "The two-platoon system in football is just what it means. . . An offensive and defensive team with specialists. . . The two-platoon system is not used in U. P. high schools for the simple reason that few high schools have enough players for a two-platoon system. . . What they do want, however, is a continuation of the free substitution rule which enables a coach to substitute as many men as he wants at any time. . . This is to the advantage of high schools in this area, because it keeps a team at its strongest at all times and gives more kids a chance to play. . . Menominee has always had one of the strongest football teams in the Peninsula simply because Menominee likes football and the kids go for it in a big way. . . Just like Ishpeming in basketball. . . But even with a squad of 72 hopefuls, the Maroons still didn't have the manpower or the specialists for a two-platoon system."

Hawks Travel Tonight, Play Home Wednesday

The Escanaba Hawks reopen their bid for second place in the Northern Michigan Hockey League standings with the first of a two-night stand at Houghton tonight. Tomorrow night the Hawks return to home ice to tangle with the Marquette Sentinels who hold down the No. 2 spot in the standings.

If the Hawks can get by defending champion Portage Lake tonight they would be able to tie the Sentinels for second with a victory here tomorrow night. Marquette has six wins to four for the Hawks.

The Hawks will sport a new face in the lineup this week. Joining the club for the first time tonight will be Bob Higgins of Marquette.

Higgins is a graduate of Marquette junior and intermediate hockey and has played several years in the Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey League which has graduated such Hawk stars as Ben Artwich and Dave Serbinski from out-of-town areas.

At Houghton tonight the Hawks will again have to contend with the league's leading scorer in Tony Bukovich. The Pioneer veteran has scored 17 goals and 14 assists to date.

Leading Hawk scorer this season is player-coach Mark Olson with seven goals and a dozen assists. Buddy Provo and Len Webster rank behind Olson in the Hawk scoring department.

The Hawks have a pair of victories over Portage Lake this season, one at home and one in the Copper Country. Those are the only two losses suffered by the defending champs in the current campaign.

A capacity crowd is looked for at the Escanaba rink Wednesday when the Hawks renew their long rivalry against the Sentinels.

Track Star Wilt Sure Dream Mile Possible

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK —Fred Wilt says he's certain the four-minute mile will be run within the next year or two but he figures a European, and not Australia's John Landy, will be the one to do it.

"The four-minute mile isn't just a possibility, it's a certainty," the slender FBI agent, America's ace distance runner, said today. "Personally, I think the ultimate human speed for the distance is not four minutes but around 3:55."

"I have always felt that Gundar Haegg, Sweden's world record holder with 4:01.41 or Arne Anderson (4:01.6) could have done it long ago if they'd been accustomed to running the mile instead of the international distance of 1,500 meters."

Hurricanes And Rockets Come Up With Midget Wins

The Gladstone Rockets and the Southside Hurricanes posted Midget League hockey victories last evening.

The Rockets blanked the Northtown Eagles 2-0 in the first game and the Hurricanes shut out the Wells Lions 4-0 in the second.

Jerry Swanson opened scoring for the Rockets with a solo goal in the first period. Mike Stenac rang the bell again for the Rockets' second goal, unassisted, late in the final period.

Marvin Nault paced the Hurricanes to their win with goals in the second and third periods. Ken Hamilton scored unassisted in the first and John Wellman hit for a third period goal on an assist from Dick Arntzen. John Wellman got an assist on Nault's second score.

Nault drew a charging penalty in the second period and the Lions' John Haddock sat out a tripping penalty in the same frame.

Manistique Golden Gloves Champs Enter Tournament

Two Manistique boxers who won Milwaukee tournament championships last year, Wayne Tufnell and Harvard Lancour, will compete in the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament at Escanaba next Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 2-3, at the Junior High School gymnasium.

Tufnell and Lancour will head the Manistique team of about a dozen boxers. Last year Tufnell won the 135 pound open division championship at Milwaukee and Lancour copped the 135 pound novice title at Milwaukee. This year Lancour will compete in the open division and expects to make the featherweight class, 126 pounds. He fought in Milwaukee last year as a lightweight but checked in at only 129 pounds.

Coach Ed Toyre of Manistique has a fine field of new boxers this year, most of them in the lighter weights, 112 to 135 pounds.

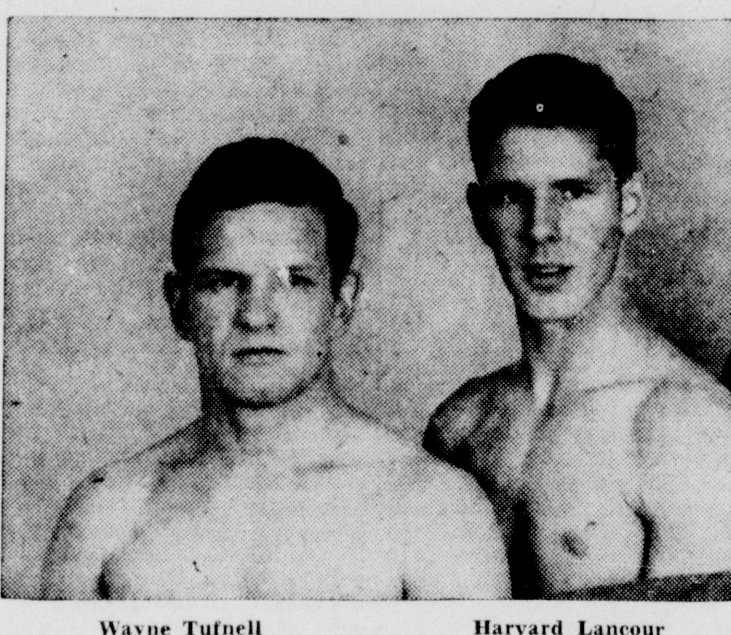

Francis Selling, another Manistique lad who won the welterweight open division championship at Milwaukee last year, is located in Detroit now and will not be available for this year's Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves.

A guest of the tournament management in a spectator role at the tournament next week will be Leonard Sharkey, fourtime Golden Gloves champion in the lightweight and welterweight classes.

Sharkey, living in Manistique, is recuperating from a long illness in which he was hospitalized at Gaylord Sanatorium for two years.

James Mancini, Iron Mountain, veteran Upper Peninsula referee, who has been assigned to virtually all of the Escanaba tournaments over the years, will referee this year's Golden Gloves bout.

Veteran judges George Hurley and Al Jacobson of Marquette also will be back to score the bouts this year.

National Guard Falls 81-43 To Chevs Quint

MANISTIQUE — The Chevs notched an 81-43 City League cage victory over the National Guards here last night with Berger guiding in 23 points to lead the winners.

National Guard started fast and led 16-13 at the end of the first frame but the Chevs scored 20 points in the second quarter to lead 33-28 at the half. They were in complete command the remainder of the game.

Tigers Have 16 In Fold, 20 Unsigned

DETROIT —The Detroit Tigers counted 16 players in the fold today, but 20 still had not signed 1953 contracts with the American League tail-enders.

Pitcher Art Houtteman, expressing confidence this would be a winning year: Dick Marlowe, who pitched a no-hitter for Buffalo last season, and Bill Tuttle, promising

Seton Hall Keeps Top Cage Rating

NEW YORK, (P)—Seton Hall, rolling along as the nation's only undefeated major college basketball team, was vote No. 1 team in the nation today for the second straight week.

The powerful Pirates, who made Memphis State victim No. 19 during the week, were voted tops by 44 of the 85 sportswriters and broadcasters in the poll.

They piled up 679 votes on the usual basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc. for a comfortable margin over second-place Indiana. The Hoosiers, runner-up for the second straight week, received 12 first-place votes and 595 points, while Washington held third place with a dozen firsts and 545 points.

LaSalle, which led the poll for the first two weeks only to be supplanted by Kansas State, climbed past the Midwesterners this week. La Salle took over the fourth spot, shoving Kansas State down to fifth.

Illinois, still without a first-place vote, held sixth place, but all was confusion below that. Fordham jumped back up to seventh from 10th, moving Oklahoma A&M down a peg. Western Kentucky, which last night walloped Tampa, 117-58, took over the ninth position and De Paul, a 58-47 victor over Oklahoma A&M last week, became No. 10.

Out of the select circle were North Carolina State, which lost by 70-69 to North Carolina, and outfield rookie, returned signed contracts yesterday.

So did Coaches Rick Ferrell and Ted Lyons.

Losingest Pitcher

Houtteman, a 25-year-old right-hander, was the losingest pitcher in the American League in 1952, dropping 20 games and winning only eight.

But his baby daughter was killed in an automobile accident at the start of the season and his wife and mother injured.

Expressing confidence he'd return to his one-time winning ways, Houtteman said he had been working out with a Tiger pitching mate, Ted Gray, this winter and was in good condition. He also reported he had done a lot of bowling.

Good Army News

The Tiger front office got good news from another source — the U. S. Army — for a change.

Ray Herbert, a young pitcher with promise and now an Army corporal at Fort Custer, informed the club that the Army has oked his taking all accumulated furlough time at once and that this will permit him to take part in spring training with the Tigers.

Herbert's official discharge is due in May.

NARDICO HONORED

NEW YORK —Danny Nardico, the busy Tampa, Fla., light heavyweight who knocked out Jake LaMotta, is rated "fighter of the month" for January in the copy-right monthly ratings of Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK —Mike Jacobs died without having received an award which would have been richly deserved and of which he would have been immensely proud — an award for having done more than any other man to open the world of sports to the Negro athlete.

But for the opportunity he gave a youngster named Joe Louis some 15 years ago, Negro fighters might still be on the outside looking hungrily at the riches of the sport.

"Look it up," he would growl. "How many Negro champions were there when I promoted my first fight in 1934? I'll tell you — one. Panama Al Brown was the bantamweight champion, and he couldn't get any real money fights in this country. He had to stay abroad to make a living."

"If I hadn't given Louis his chance how do you know he wouldn't have spent his career trying to get a shot at whatever white fighter held the heavyweight title? Did Harry Wills ever get such a chance?"

At the time Mike grabbed Young Joe out of Detroit and matched him with Jim Braddock for the crown, the entrenched fistic power, Madison Square Garden, was concerned only with pitting Max Schmeling against the champion. The late Jimmy Johnston, who was then the garden promoter, was supposed to have given John Roxborough, one of Louis' managers, a royal snubbing.

Mike did give the dark destroyer his chance, and other Negro fighters followed close upon Joe's heels during what will inevitably be recalled as a golden era of boxing.

LeBaron 'Most Courageous' Athlete, Nearly Retired

PHILADELPHIA — Little more than a year ago Eddie LeBaron thought he'd give up football and make a career out of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Today, the 23-year-old ex-Marine lieutenant owns a trophy calling him the "most courageous" athlete of 1952.

The 165-pound quarterback of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League picked up the coveted award Monday night at the 49th annual dinner of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association.

The gathering also honored Bobby Shantz, pint-sized pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, as the outstanding athlete of the year, and Don Moomaw of UCLA as the lineman of the year.

LeBaron suffered leg and shoulder injuries near Yangu, Korea, in the summer of 1951.

"I figured the wounds were enough to louse up a football career," said LeBaron, who was little All-America for three years playing for College of The Pacific.

"But then, after a while I figured I'd never know if my football days were really over unless I tried to play."

That meant endless exercise and practice to eliminate the stiffness and pain in his throwing arm. Then, after his discharge, Eddie came back to the Redskins who had signed him before he went to Korea. In a single season LeBaron became one of the top five passers in the NFL.

Chips Put Northwest Lumber Mills In The Chips; Trees Get Break, Too

PORTLAND, Ore. — (NEA) — Many Pacific Northwest lumber and plywood plants are in the chips in both ways.

Chipping wood waste into usable, valuable chips is the latest move in an ever-increasing trend to utilize everything about a log. In 1941, it was estimated that 49 per cent of each Douglas fir log was wasted. Today, almost everything is used.

Listen to what chips mean to one big Oregon plywood plant: "Up to about a year ago," says an executive, "we used our green veneer trimmings and other left-overs in a steam boiler, to generate electricity. Then we found it was costing as much to make electricity as we could buy it. Now we grind the waste into chips and sell them to a pulp mill. It means about $100,000 a year extra revenue for us."

At least 100 sawmills and plywood plants now have installed chipping machines. Their output is estimated at one trainload daily. The chip-buying pulp mills produce about 2740 tons of kraft paper each 24 hours and now half the raw material comes from chips. And it is forecast that within two years chips, once waste, may account for 70 per cent of the raw material used by West Coast pulp mills.

Foresters claim this booming chip business is saving mature trees which otherwise would have been pulped for paper. They estimate that it means keeping for future years the equivalent of 8000 acres of old-growth timber annually.

The West Coast's big paper maker, Crown Zellerbach Corp., uses many wood chips. At Camas, Wash., where the company has the world's largest specialty paper mill, turning out 250,000 tons yearly, 25 per cent of the raw material used is chips.

"That's about equivalent to 5,000,000 board feet of timber per month," reveals Frank Drumb, resident manager. "This chipping business is a tremendous contribution to forestry."

Chipping machines, depending on size, cost all the way from $15,000 to $75,000. In most operations, the de-barked scrap wood is carried by conveyor belt into the powerful chipping machine, which has a heavy disc to which are attached six to eight big knives. One Crown Zellerbach chipper, with a 153-inch disc and six knives, can chip up a log 34 inches in diameter.

The chips, about an inch square and a half-inch thick, then flow to screens where the oversize chips are screened out and returned for re-chipping. The right-size chips drop into a loading chute.

The quest for chips is so intense that in some lumber and plywood plants, the pulp mills buy and install the chipping machines. Profits from the sale of the chips pay for the machines.

Absenteeism Might Be Factor On Big Issues Before 83rd Congress

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON —(CQ)— Absenteeism may decide important issues in the new 83rd Congress, according to Congressional Quarterly.

A survey of voting participation in the lately departed 82nd Congress indicated that the average Member of Congress voted on more than four of every five roll calls in 1951 and 1952.

But he was absent or failed to vote on about one of every five roll calls. This failure to vote, was divided fairly evenly between the two major parties.

In a closely divided Congress, like the new 83rd, any close roll call may hinge on votes that are never cast.

If absenteeism runs at the same rate in the present Congress as it did in the last, party whips will be unusually busy on both sides of the aisle persuading Members to be on hand when there is roll-call voting.

There are 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one independent in the Senate; 221 Republicans, 211 Democrats, and one independent in the House, which has two vacancies.

More Than 500 Roll Calls

There were 512 roll calls in the 82nd Congress, 331 in the Senate and 181 in the House. The average Representative voted "yea," "nay," or was eligible to vote but answered "present" on 82.57 per cent of the House record votes. The average Senator had a somewhat lower percentage, 79.30, but was called upon to vote nearly twice as many times as his House colleague.

The highest voting participation percentage was chalked up by the House Republicans, who voted on 84.88 per cent of all House roll calls. Democratic Senators came next, with a percentage of 81.08. Senate Republicans had the lowest percentage, 77.34. House Democrats had a percentage of 80.56.

Individual High and Lows

The greatest "range" in voting participation was in the House. Five Representatives answered all roll calls during the entire Congress; but two answered only one out of three.

"Hundred-percenters" were three Republicans, H. Carl Anderson (Minn.), H. R. Gross (Iowa) and Donald W. Nicholson (Mass.); and two Democrats, Paul Brown (Ga.) and Frank M. Karsten (Mo.). Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. (D-N. Y.) had the lowest voting percentage record in either house. He answered 30 per cent of the roll calls. Next was former Rep. Roy O. Woodruff (R-Mich.), who retired at the end of the session in 1952.

Korean Hill Named For Cigaret Lighter

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A manufacturing firm here has been notified by the Marine Corps that a hill on the Korean battlefield has been named after the cigarette lighter it makes.

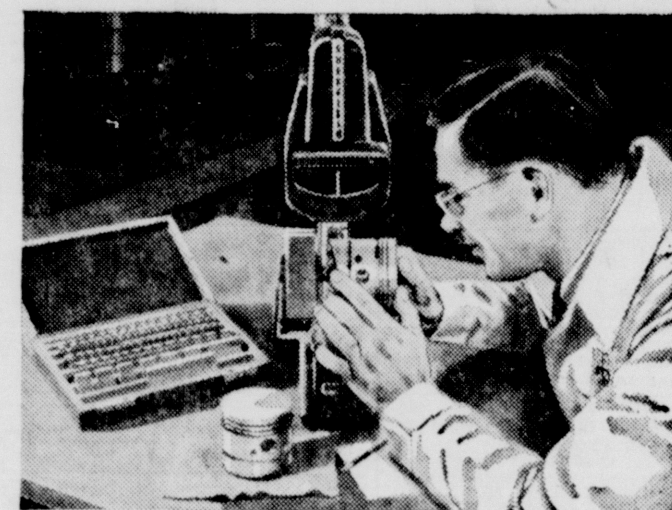

The name (Ronson hill) was put on maps after a leatherneck went on several lone patrols to retrieve the lost lighter his girl gave him before he left the states.

What's behind the swing to Ford?

What's behind the 41 "Worth More" features which make it worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it?

SUPER-FITTED ALUMINUM ALLOY PISTONS! You can't find a more efficient, quieter-operating piston even in the highest priced cars! Ford pistons maintain proper fit from cold start to normal driving temperature.

SAVINGS A MATTER OF RECORD! Ford alone in its field offers both a 110-h.p. Strato-Star V-8 (the only V-8 in the low-price field) and a low-friction 101-h.p. Mileage Maker Six. Both have Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which gives you the savings of high-compression "go" with regular gas.

FORD CRESTMARK RODIEST They're built to hold their beauty. And every one of Ford's 18 models offers hull-tight protection against water, dust and draft. Do these bodies stand up? Proof is that Ford holds its value better than any other car.

SHIFT TO FORDOMATIC and you'll never shift again. It's the automatic drive that does more things for you automatically than any other in its field. Or, if you prefer, pick Ford Overdrive or Conventional Drives.

IT'S SAFETY-WISE! The brakes in your Ford are double-sealed against dust and water. They use the car's momentum to help you stop. The foot pedals are suspended from above to work easier... allow brake master cylinder to be mounted under hood for easy servicing.

YOU CAN PAY MORE... BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER! There is a nutshell you have the reason why America is swinging to Ford. For in every department Ford is setting the pace for the industry. And now, with the news getting around that a Ford gives you more not only when you buy it but also when you sell it, just watch folks take to this '53 Ford. Isn't it time you took a Test Drive?

Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive, white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.
